

Commie Congress In Fall

First in 13 Years
Includes Abolishing
Powerful Politburo
As Ruling Group

MOSCOW, (U-P)—The proposed new statutes of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union announced today provide for the abolition of the Politburo.

This startling reorganization of the Soviet governing structure was revealed today in an announcement that Russia's ruling Communist party would hold its first Congress in 13 years on Oct. 5.

The announcement said the Congress also would take up plans for a fifth five-year plan to increase Soviet industrial output 70 per cent by the end of 1955.

The Politburo, deriving its power theoretically from the Central Committee of the Communist Party, is in fact the ruling body of the Soviet Union, and thus of world Communism. It is made up of Prime Minister Joseph Stalin, party general secretary, and 10 others, plus a number of alternate members, and has wielded unquestioned authority under Stalin.

Under the new statutes the Politburo and organization bureau are replaced by a "Presidium" which has the function of "guiding the work of the Central Committee between sessions."

The party secretariat, however, remains under the new statutes, most important held in the Soviet Union since the end of World War II.

(In Western capitals officials and observers also saw the scheduling of the party Congress as a major event, though they were reluctant to immediately speculate exactly what it might mean. For some time Westerners have considered that the failure of the Soviet Communists to call a party convention indicated possible weaknesses in the party structure at home. National Guardsmen (Including Sedalians) Have Inspection Today

CAMP RIPLEY, Minn. (U-P)—Maj. Gen. John C. Smith, deputy commander of the Fifth Army, today inspected troops of the 35th Division in field training here.

After inspecting the honor guard from the 138th Infantry of St. Louis the general inspected the field training of the Kansas and Missouri National Guard Division.

Kansas newsmen are scheduled to arrive late today on a "press lift" for visits with hometown units. A plane load of Missouri newsmen is expected tomorrow.

Newsmen will remain until Saturday afternoon.

Saturday morning a parade will be held before Governors Forrest Smith of Missouri and Edward Arn of Kansas.

British Cockney Busmen, Who Included Sedalia on U.S. Trip, Return Home Amazed

The British busses stopped for a noon-hour visit in Sedalia during the trip across the United States from east to west. They had to be routed through a special way to allow the tall buses to miss telephone and power lines. Their stop was made at the Wheel Inn on Highway 50, west.

LONDON (U-P)—Nine Cockney busmen came home today from a 12,000-mile tour of the United States and Canada and told of a continent crowded with mountains of food, well-dressed women and looney blokes who drink their tea with ice in it.

The Cockneys took their towering double-deckers abroad five months ago as an official "Come to Britain" stunt to attract tourists, but while in America, they got an eyeful themselves.

Albert C. Dennis, 34, startled staid Britons at a London reception for the busmen by declaring that "temperature, just temperature, is what makes American women, especially those in California, more attractive than those over here."

Dennis hastily explained that what he meant was that the milder weather in the States allows American women to wear lightweight and therefore more attractive clothes.

All the busmen were flabbergasted by Americans who put ice in their tea.

The traveling busmen from London shocked American waiters, however, by asking for beer at room temperature, British style.

In one New York bar, they recalled, a disgusted waiter put several bottles of beer under a hot water tap and then handed them over.

The senior Cockney driver, George James Gwynn, 61, was struck by the "almost unbelievable hospitality" of the Americans, and the speed of American life, particularly the way the traffic moves.

"The Americans are a go-ahead people," he said.

The touring Cockney drivers are now going back to their old jobs where they will be big double-deckers through the thick London traffic.

Bus No. 11, which gave free rides to 83,000 people in Canada and the U. S., is already on a London run.

Telephone Union Employees Off Jobs At Joplin Exchange

JOPLIN, Mo. (U-P)—Most union telephone service employees were out of work today in the Joplin district, but there were no interruptions of phone service.

Marvin Collins, international representative of the Communications Workers of America (CIO), said continued service could not be promised, but added that his members were working toward an agreement of the grievance that led to the work stoppage yesterday.

On and Around the Fairgrounds with the Fairgoers

Stores Close Thursday

The Sedalia stores will close at noon Thursday in order that employees may attend the Missouri State Fair's Sedalia Day. This is a custom established by the retail merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce a number of years ago.

Chillicothe Scores With Beef

Junior beef awards under the Vocational Agriculture (MFA) had a good show this year. Chillicothe won both the champion and reserve champion on steers.

The champ was a hereford owned by Tom Beedley, route 4, Chillicothe, while his young neighbor, Clay Morris, Chillicothe, showed the reserve FFA, also a whiteface Hereford.

Jim Campbell, of the Richmond FFA chapter, had the top Short-horn and Jerry Martin, Lamar, exhibited the first place Angus.

Ham to Hennings

United States Senator Thomas C. Hennings Jr., sponsor of the beautiful Missouri State Fair Country Cured Ham challenge trophy, is to receive one of the best hams of the state fair show. Senator Hennings will be presented the reserve champion ham of Lawrence Burger, California, it was reported on the fair grounds.

The Missouri Farmers Association was high bidders on the reserve champion ham, it being bought in by F. L. Moritz, Columbia, for the MFA at a price of $3 per pound or a total of $45.

"We want Senator Hennings to know how much we appreciate his sincere interest in Missouri hams," Mr. Moritz said, "and through this means of sending him the reserve champion, we want him to know how much the MFA appreciates this interest."

The grand champion ham, of Hugo Alwel, Concordia, which was purchased by E. L. Preston of Liberty Tribune for a group of Democrats at the big price of $11 per pound or $220, goes to Governor Adlai Stevenson, the democratic candidate for President of the United States.

LI. Gov. James Blair has offered to take the ham to Illinois in company with Robert T. Thornburg, commissioner of agriculture, and others and make a personal presentation to Gov. Stevenson.

Many Anniversary Cakes

A new class commemorating the 50th anniversary of the fair, the anniversary class, brought forth many artistic creations of many layers. Three blue ribbons went in this class to Mrs. Joe Marriott, Glensted, Mrs. Luther Sartin, Warrensburg, and Mrs. W. H. Eichholz, Sedalia.

Largest Beef Show

In the vocational agriculture (FAA) junior dairy awards, boys of Missouri had their largest exhibit of dairy cattle in the history of the Missouri State Fair. They will try some of their heifers in the open competition which is the largest show since 1941, with a count of 548 head among five breeds.

Marvin Grier, Rogersville, won the Holstein plaque for the "Best showman of the 'Black and White' breed."

Champion Pie Baker

Two Sedalia women had a hot contest in the home economics department when, for the first time in the history of the fair, a state pie baking champion was named. Mrs. C. E. Ferguson and Mrs. F. A. Kueck tied for the honors with Mrs. Ferguson being named champion.

Perfect Attendance Awards

Missouri mule salt and pepper shakers, in celebration of the golden anniversary of the Missouri State Fair, were presented to C.

W. Jones, 503 East Fifth, Sedalia; Ralph W. Dow, route 4, Sedalia; C. A. Annett, route 1, Green Ridge; C. E. Wise, route 4, Sedalia; Mrs. Claude Yankee, 616 Wilkerson, Sedalia, whose husband, now deceased, was an employee of the Sedalia Democrat-Capital; Tom Swafford, Ottumwa, and Mrs. Mattie M. Barnes, 6 North First, Columbia, who have all attended the fair each of the 50 years.

Hospital Keeps Busy

The emergency hospital at the Missouri State Fair grounds is being kept busy these hot days with mostly sick patients and very few accidents.

Eighty-three persons were treated at the hospital on Tuesday, while the count of the sick treated there today was 36 at 2 p.m.

Stand Missed First Fair

Mrs. Katherine Little, Dallas, Tex., and her nephew, Melvin Little, Des Moines, Ia., still operate the State Fair Cafeteria at the north end of the grandstand at the Missouri State Fair. Mrs. Little's husband, Phil, brought the stand to the fair in its second year. He operated the concession every year until his death in 1949. A. (Please turn to Page 6, Column 5)

Bombers Hit Red Supplies

Troop Billeting
Area on Korean
West Coast Blasted
By 200 UN Planes

SEOUL, Korea (U-P)—The U. S. Fifth Air Force said about 200 Air Force and Navy warplanes today hit a Communist ammunition supply and troop billeting area on the Korean West Coast about 25 miles northwest of the Red capital of Pyongyang.

The Air Force said U. S. Sabre jets damaged one of four Russian-made MIG15 jets intercepted about 100 miles north of Pyongyang.

Planes from American carriers operating on the Korean East Coast hit the target first—shortly after noon. They were followed by Fifth Air Force fighter-bombers.

There were eight separate targets in the area, the Air Force said.

Returning pilots reported early claims of 58 buildings demolished and five damaged. Big explosions rocked the area as bombs smacked into ammunition stores. Flames raged through the target, a center of more than 300 buildings.

The warplanes struck as bright sun broke over the quiet battlefield, soaked by typhoon rains.

The U. S. Eighth Army said 3,134 Reds were killed or wounded in the week ended Aug. 14, highest weekly toll in two months.

U. S. Marines inflicted most of the casualties in the hot battle on Bunker and Siberia Hills near Panmunjom. The Marines seized Bunker Hill from the Chinese Aug. 12, and beat off seven big Red attempts to recapture it. U. N. troops threw back a Red probe against Bunker Hill in five minutes early today.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said pilots reported destruction of two Communist artillery positions in air strikes in the Bunker Hill sector.

Other fliers attacked a supply area north of Kumsong on the Central Front, reporting destruction of two supply dumps, two supply shelters and two buildings.

Six Injured In Car Crash At Intersection

All From Topeka,
Their Car Was One
Of Three in Mishap

A three car collision occurred at the intersection of Broadway and Engineer Wednesday at 12:35 p.m. with the occupants of one car receiving severe injuries.

Those injured in the accident were: Mrs. Keith Swinehart, Topeka, Kan., who was suffering chest injuries; Keith Swinehart Jr., her 10-year old son, who was still undergoing treatment at present time; Swinehart, her two-year old daughter, who received severe injuries to her mouth; Buddy Weber, 8, also of Topeka, who suffered a slight injury to his right shoulder; Charles Weber, 3, who received a bump on the back of his head; and Mrs. Tom Weber of Topeka, who received a slight bruise to her right temple. All of the injured were from Topeka.

Mrs. Weber was driving a 1951 Ford sedan in which all the injured were riding. The Ford was going east on Broadway when it and a 1948 Nash Ambassador, driven by F. R. Staley, 416 North Hurley, collided.

The Ford then collided with a 1948 Pontiac sedan, driven by Harold Stone of Edina, the Ford then came to a stand still in its own lane of traffic.

The injured were taken to the Bothwell Hospital in the Gillespie ambulance.

Mr. Staley was reported to be suffering from shock and was taken to the office of Dr. John Carlisle.

Unexpected Attraction

It was an extra attraction which the customers didn't know about, but officials of the fair and the stage show appreciated very much.

Today Cowboy Atcher rode his beautiful horse, Meadow Gold, on the race track between racing heats and gave a 15-minute program of singing and playing on his guitar while Meadow Gold was showing off, too.

The beautiful horse has been registered under the Meadow Gold name.

Atcher is well known to millions of television and radio fans, being on the Beatrice Food Co. program known as the Meadow Gold Ranch, televised in Chicago.

While in Sedalia he is the house guest of Mr. Bagby at his home, 234 South Moniteau.

The Weather

LAWN MOWERS SHARPENED

CLOUDY AND WARMER

Partly cloudy and warm tonight and Thursday, with a thundershower early Thursday; low tonight near 70; high Thursday in lower 90's.

The temperature at 7 a.m. was 74; 95 at 1 p.m., and 97 at 2 p.m.

Thought for Today

Our hearts must not only be broken with sorrow, but be broken from sin, to constitute repentance. —Dewey.

Gov. Smith, Kansas City Delegates at Fair Today

Attendance
Today May
Best 1951

Early Crowd Count
Smaller Than Year Ago; Still Coming

The day's attendance at the Golden Anniversary of the Missouri State Fair early today was somewhat short of a year ago but fair officials are confident it will exceed the corresponding day of 1951 by night fall. Activity on the outside gates on the part of the fair goers has been steady, but no rushing was experienced like last Sunday.

The attendance for Governor's and Kansas City Day in 1941 was 68,701, an exceptionally high figure for Wednesday of any fair week, especially when it precedes "Big Thursday" which is Sedalia, Pettis County and Springfield Day.

A slight increase was made on Tuesday attendance over the corresponding day of 1951. It was Legislators' and St. Louis Day, and the final count on attendance was 47,203, an increase of 963 over 1951. The total attendance for the first four days of the 1952 fair was 159,332, compared with the first four days of 1951 which was 182,793.

Robert T. Thornburg, commissioner, and Rollo E. Singleton, secretary of the fair, in discussing the attendance, said they were pleased over the fact there was an increase over the previous year, and had hopes it would reach the half-million mark.

The two biggest days are still in the making, Thursday and Saturday, the latter automobile racing day for the big car drivers. Thursday, of course, is expected to draw the greater part of the people from Sedalia and Pettis County, as Sedalia's business houses will be closed during the afternoon to give employees an opportunity to see the fair.

Today's attendance will put the fair well over the 200,000 mark, but is far from the goal of 500,000. However, the fair officials feel the attendance for the nine days will exceed previous years by a neat margin.

Cowboy Atcher a Star

The foreman of the Meadow Gold TV Ranch (Beatrice Foods Co.), Bob Atcher, who appeared before the grandstand at the Missouri State Fair today, literally "saved the show" Tuesday night when he filled in before the night crowd in the grandstand. Atcher, who was on the grounds just "going around seeing things" with Julian H. Bagby, manager of the Beatrice Foods Co. plant in Sedalia, was called upon to "fill in" while arrangements were being made for the Golden Anniversary Stage Show and Musical Revue.

Because of the lengthy program of the Grand Circuit harness races in the afternoon, which kept the race track occupied up until well after 6 o'clock, stage hands could not set up the stage for the show on the track. Delayed in their work, this set the show back for nearly an hour.

Actually there wasn't an attraction which could fill in while the stage hands, electricians, and others were making the necessary final arrangements for the big show. People in the grandstand were becoming a bit restless until Cowboy Atcher made his appearance out in front at the "mike."

He took over like the trooper (cowboy) he is, sang several songs and played his guitar much to the enjoyment of all.

It was an extra attraction which the customers didn't know about, but officials of the fair and the stage show appreciated very much.

Today Cowboy Atcher rode his beautiful horse, Meadow Gold, on the race track between racing heats and gave a 15-minute program of singing and playing on his guitar while Meadow Gold was showing off, too.

The beautiful horse has been registered under the Meadow Gold name.

Atcher is well known to millions of television and radio fans, being on the Beatrice Food Co. program known as the Meadow Gold Ranch, televised in Chicago.

While in Sedalia he is the house guest of Mr. Bagby at his home, 234 South Moniteau.

HIS DAY AT FAIR—Gov. Forrest Smith, Missouri's chief executive, who is honored at the festivities today.

Grand Champ Babies Given Their Awards

Governor Makes
One Presentation
At the Grandstand

Among the 52 children who scored in the health examinations, the grand champion blue ribbon baby girl and baby boy awards went to Deborah Klekamp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Klekamp, route 1, Boonville, and Daniel Patrick Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Wood, route 1, La Monte.

Gov. Forrest L. Smith, stating that he always looks forward to making this particular presentation at the Missouri State Fair, presented the blue ribbon award to Deborah Klekamp in the ceremony at the grandstand Wednesday morning.

In the absence of Lt. Gov. James T. Blair, Dr. Lynn M. Garner, MO, MPH, superintendent of the health department of the fair, gave the blue ribbon baby boy award to Daniel Patrick. Dr. Garner took his position with the health department in 1944.

Robert T. Thornburg, commissioner of agriculture, introduced Governor Smith, Dr. Garner, director of public health and welfare, Fulton, and Dr. James R. Amos, Jefferson City, director of the division of health.

Ed. Jameson made the nine point award presentation to Charles Phillip Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Hoffman, 611 West Seventh, Sedalia.

The nine point girl award to Sally Ann Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Price, Knob Noster, was presented by Dr. Amos, who said that work for children's health, physical, emotional and spiritual, is one of the most important jobs the health department of Missouri has.

Dr. Amos also presented the grand champion negro child award to Robert Smith, foster son of Mrs. Lillian Stewart, 32 East Linwood Boulevard, Kansas City.

All children were examined by appointment and were seen every 15 minutes last Tuesday.

Record Entry List in Fair's Rabbit Show

Rabbit enthusiasts of Missouri brought out a record display for the 1952 Missouri State Fair which was pronounced by Ted Wengert, Rockford, Ill., to be well up to standards in quality.

C. N. Farley, Sedalia, assistant to the show supervisor, Jack McGinnis, Savannah, stated that the show was the largest the Missouri State Fair has ever had.

Breeder had "kicked in" an additional $125 to the money offered by the fair management. The judge stated that in many classes it was hard to pick a first.

Bunker Hill 4-H Club Has Fish Fry

A basket dinner and fish fry was held recently by the Bunker Hill 4-H Club members at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lemler.

RADIO-RUN ROBOT DOES ALL BUT RHUMBA—Louie the Robot does 24 human-like things by radio, but dancing is not one of them. Seen at left doing the light fantastic with a girl during his Hamburg, Germany, debut, the mechanical man stepped on her toes in spite of his intricate controls connected by two miles of wire wound through his torso. The product of two brilliant Swiss engineers, Louie can smoke, blows the smoke through his nose, move his arms and lips, speaks when spoken to, lights a cigaret when asked, sings, and walks as much as 15 miles unattended. At right, Louie's secrets are revealed as his coat is doffed to show the maze of tubes, gadgets and wiring which were designed by his inventors. Bars sticking from ears are transmitting and sending arials.

The Oranto Trio

The Oranto Trio, one of the most artistic and thrilling high pole acts ever to come out from under the big top, will appear in the grandstand show of the Missouri State Fair Aug. 19-24.

The daredevil troupe works from a high pole balanced on the shoulders of one of their members, performing almost an unbelievable performance of amazing gyrations, head stands, and numerous other balancing skills.

The trio, two young men and a pretty blond girl, climax their routine with a revolving feature from the very top of the pole. The speed of this presentation is breathtaking since the stunt is executed while the performers are stretched forward and holding on by their feet while the understander holds the big top, will appear in the grandstand show of the Missouri State Fair Aug. 19-24.

It will be their first appearance here since most all of their appearances have been featured with the big tops of the United States and Europe.

Several of their stunts to be presented at the forthcoming fair will be executed for the first time, it was announced. They have been practicing new stunts which will be attempted during their engagement in this area.

Frog Love-Making Studied

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Among other things, a 10-year study of frogs has added a new word to the language of love-making.

It's "pudging." That, according to Dr. N. Bayard Green, Marshall College zoologist, is how the Upland Chorus frog procreates. Many of the males, he found, are chaste, but not by choice. He said they just don't get a tumble from the females, who do the courting on their own.

And that croak may simply fail to attract her when boy frog meets girl frog. She always gets her man anyway because there are more "hims" than "hers."

During his long studies Green observed some 6,000 frogs. For that

THE BRIDE WORE SPOTS—Stricken by measles a few hours before her scheduled wedding, Leta Teneyek, of Bloomington, Ind., did not let that little catastrophe hold up the ceremony. Though quarantined, she voiced her vows over a microphone through her bedroom window to the bridegroom, Jerome K. Denzer, and the rest of the wedding party on the lawn below.

Woman Banker Held as Fund Shortage Soars

DIERKS, Ark. (AP)—Discrepancies in the books at the Bank of Dierks now total $132,000 State Bank Commissioner Ed I. McKinley said as the audit of the firm's shortage continued today.

McKinley said some of the money might be accounted for during the remainder of the investigation. Bank President George Westbrook said it might be "a week or two before the books are straightened out."

Meanwhile, Mrs. Opal Simmington, the assistant cashier of the little bank for the past 32 years, was reported under a doctor's care.

She was arraigned Monday at Hot Springs, Ark., before U. S.

Commissioner Elmer Tackett on a federal charge of making false entries. She was released in $7,500 bond.

Reported discrepancies in Mrs. Simmington's books first were put at nearly $73,000 Monday when the intensive investigation was begun by the State Bank Commission, the FBI and a private auditing firm.

Donald Ban MacCrimmon, great Scottish musician, wrote the lament, "MacCrimmon Never Will Return" before he followed Bonnie Prince Charlie in the campaign of 1745 and died in the Rout of Moy.

"All my life I've wanted to own a Buick"

Power Steering now available on Super as well as Roadmaster—optional at extra cost.

It seems that owning a Buick is something that a lot of folks dream about—plan for—and finally do.

We say that because, so many times, they say so in words like those above.

Those words make us happy, of course—happy to know we sell a car which means so much to those who own it.

But they make us feel just a little bit sad as well—sad to realize all the years of fun such folks have been missing for no good reason at all.

For the fact is this:

If you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick.

You can afford the thrill of bossing around that big Fireball 8 Engine that purrs forth a mighty flow of power.

You can afford the gas bills—as any owner of a 1952 Buick will tell you—because that high-compression, valve-in-head marvel gets a lot of miles from a gallon of fuel.

You can afford the extra luxury of a real million dollar ride—the silken smoothness of Dynaflo Drive*—the extra room and comfort and style that have put Buick popularity right up at the top of the list, next to the "low-priced three."

So if you want to own a Buick—there's just one thing to do:

Come in—pick the one of your choice—and let us show you how close the figure that goes on the bill of sale comes to what you'd pay elsewhere.

As we've said before, your first car can be a Buick. Why not take the Big Step right away—today?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Virginia Lymer Marries O. Zimmerschied

The marriage of Miss Virginia Lymer, daughter of Mrs. James Lymer of Boonville, and Mr. Otto Zimmerschied, son of Mrs. Clara Zimmerschied, was solemnized at 8 o'clock in the evening, Wednesday, July 23, at the Methodist Church in Harrison, Ark. The service was performed by the Rev. Earle Cravens.

For her wedding the bride chose a dress of white nylon with rhinestone button trim. The waist, tucked in front, was designed with a collar and very short sleeves with wide turned back cuffs and the street length skirt was very full. She wore a tiny hat of white flowers and her accessories were also white. A single purple orchid formed her corsage.

The bride is employed at the Jiedel Vogue Shop and Mr. Zimmerschied is engaged in farming. They are now at home at 709 West Fifth.

Two Are Honored At Sunday Dinner

Trip From Korea Slow; He'll Stop to See 24 New Girl Friends

WITH 25TH DIVISION, Korea — Cpl. Ray Bohn of St. Louis, Mo., is due to be rotated in September from the famed Wolfhound Infantry Regiment but he wonders if he will get home by Christmas.

The reason: Back in June he wrote a dozen newspapers asking for mail. He was deluged with about 100 letters a day and from them he has found 25 girl friends who want him to visit them on his way to St. Louis from the Pacific Coast.

Bohn is studying maps and plans to visit all of them except a girl in Omaha, which he says is too far off his route.

Courtesy Program At Pacific 4-H Club

A courtesy program was enjoyed Aug. 15 by members of the Pacific 4-H Club. Joan Goss told how to introduce a guest and Mary Lee Stuhner read a poem and Eugene Oedrich gave a demonstration on asking a girl for a date. Joyce Ives read a poem.

Work was done on the radio program to be given Oct. 18. A report on achievement day was given.

Large Attendance At Georgetown Club

Eighteen members, 15 guests and four leaders attended the Aug. 11 meeting of the Georgetown 4-H Club.

Jincy Dunham gave a home grounds demonstration. Reports were given on achievement day. The next meeting will be Sept. 8 at the school.

Jeanne Crain Queen Of K. of C. Grand Ball

LOS ANGELES — Actress Jeanne Crain will reign as queen tonight at the grand ball of the Knights of Columbus National Convention.

Other actors and actresses will be present to welcome delegates.

The convention heard messages yesterday from President Truman and Pope Pius XII.

Truman said the order, founded 100 years ago, "has always championed the cause of liberty as a shining principle upon which this nation was founded and grew to greatness."

The message from the Pope singled out "for special mention the praiseworthy work of your order being carried on now for many years on behalf of Catholic youth."

Feast or famine... that's going to be the button situation this coming Fall season! There will be lines of buttons, up and down, sideways and crosswise... on most every garment. Button decorations will be the big fashion news of the year!

Buttons, as a form of closure and trim, range from the strictly functional type to the highly decorative styles. In the functional button, the manufacturer considers economy of production; in the decorative button the main consideration is fashion appeal.

FEWER MOOS—The outlook for the nation's milk drinkers is sad if the seven-year downward trend in our dairy population continues, as it does so far this year. According to the Agriculture Department's recent "Bossy" census there are 21,581,000 head on American farms. This total subtracted from the Milk Industry Foundation's survey figures for January, 1951, indicates a loss of almost three million milk givers. Government officials fear the feed shortage from the summer-long drought will cause an even more serious decline. Newschart above shows the steady rise in the cow population from 1900 to 1947, when the peak was reached. The June, 1952, total is the lowest since January, 1920.

Pvt. Robert Jones Serving in Korea With Infantry Unit

WITH THE 7TH INFANTRY DIV. IN KOREA — Pvt. Robert Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen R. Jones, Tipton, is serving with the 7th Infantry Division on the sweltering central front in Korea.

His division is taking part in patrol action against the Reds on the central front, where the temperature often rises to 100 degrees or more during the day and at night drops to below 60.

Pvt. Jones is assigned to Service Company of the 17th Infantry Regiment. He entered the Army in December 1951 and arrived in Korea last June.

Pfc. Bobby Woolery Helps Build Bridge For Troops in Korea

WITH THE EIGHTH ARMY IN KOREA — Pfc. Bobby E. Woolery, 120 East Chestnut, Sedalia, is serving in Korea with the 62d Engineer Construction Battalion.

His unit recently completed a permanent high-level bridge across the Imjin river two days before the first bad storm of the Korean rainy season.

The span, which was under construction for four months, is now playing an important role in the supply of frontline troops. Several other bridges over the river have been washed out by floods.

Woolery, who entered the Army in September 1950, is a carpenter with C Company of the 62d. He was formerly engaged in farming.

Overland Police Embarrassed by Man Who Taunts Them

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Suburban Overland police not only can't catch a man they want to arrest, but they have to listen to his taunts over the telephone.

Police Chief Browne Hairgrove said Donald Adams, 23, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses and careless driving, not only escaped twice over the weekend when officers were about to catch him, but has called up saying, "If you want me, you can come and get me."

But he doesn't wait around for the officers.

An officer saw him Sunday night in Overland. As the policeman got out of his car, Adams fled into a weed patch. Twenty officers searched the area four hours without luck.

The same thing happened Monday afternoon.

"This is causing great inconvenience," Hairgrove commented.

The low down on JOE GERM

and his accomplices who yearly take two hundred million dollars out of the pockets of American dairy farmers.

This is a little story about Joe and his accomplices... Once there was a germ named Joe. He loved to bother cows and give them mastitis. The farmers had a terrible time protecting their cows from Joe and his cousin, Bill.

For years, Joe and his cousin, Bill, had the field pretty much to themselves. Other germs, like Sam, Dick, Moe and Butch, hardly ever had a chance to bother cows, because Joe and Bill kind of had a strangle-hold on their territory.

Then came Penicillin. It was death to Joes and Bills, and the farmers were happy that their cows gave more milk when they used Penicillin.

But, after a while, farmers found that Penicillin would not relieve some cows of their mastitis. With Joe and Bill on the run, Sam and Dick, who were not bothered by Penicillin, were increasingly "muscling in" on their territory.

Then came Penicillin and Dihydrostreptomycin to put a crimp into Sam and Dick as well. That seemed to take care of most of the mastitis cases, but there were still a few that didn't respond. Moe did not like Penicillin, but it took a lot to kill him, and a few of Joe's tough cousins, that nobody had heard much about during Joe's heyday, were still giving a little trouble. Still worse, Butch was so tough he did not give a hoot about either Penicillin or Dihydrostreptomycin.

So then a third antibiotic was wheeled into position—Bacitracin. This made short work of Butch and the other tougher varieties of Joes and Moes, besides helping to finish off ordinary Joes and Bills faster.

And that, my friends, is why the farmer likes TRIBIOTIC OINTMENT. It contains three antibiotics. Among them they make short work of the vast majority of the germ tribe and the farmer gets almost perfect protection from losses due to bovine mastitis.

"Those three musketeers really work together." It is as if you added 2, 2 and 2 and obtained 9 instead of 6. That kind of teamwork is called "synergism."

The names used in this story are fictitious but this is a true story and we will be glad to give you the true names of all the characters.

Charles Brown Again Shows 'Champ' Wool

Why Missouri sheep breeders do not take more interest in the fleece half of their crop has been a mystery to E. Glen Thacker, Kansas City, supervisor of the Missouri State Fair Wool Show since its inauguration several years ago.

The Missouri Corriedale Association is an exception and has gained a lot of favorable publicity for the breed all over the sheep producing area of the nation. In the medium wool classes there is good interest, but in Hampshire, Southdown, and Montedale breed classes the entries are lagging.

Charles S. Brown, veteran purebred breeder for 33 years, again had the state champion fleece taken from a yearling ram which he said, due to a legume hay famine in his area, did not equal his "champ" fleece of last year. The fleece weighed 18 pounds. He said too much protein meal does not equal grass and good legume hay for the best quality of wool.

Judge of the show was J. R. Ellis, Kansas City, who praised the high quality and good numbers of the entries of the 1952 show which was held in the Agriculture building, Albert Dyer, Columbia, is superintendent of the sheep department.

Awards were as follows:

Fine Combing—1. and 2. Winston Flentje, Trenton.
One-Half Blood Combing—1. Marvin Haynes, Lawson; 2. and 3. C. G. Bonderer, Moersville; 4. Thomas O. Pemberton, Centralia; 5. Charles Magee, Bethany; 6. Charles S. Brown, Osborn.

Three-Eighths Blood Combing—1. and 3. Charles S. Brown, Osborn; 2. Thomas O. Pemberton, Centralia; 4. Charles Magee, Bethany; 5. Rea Haynes, Kingston; 6. G. G. Bonderer, Moersville.

One-Quarter Blood Combing—1. Charles Magee, Bethany; 2. Thomas O. Pemberton, Centralia; 3. and 4. Rea Haynes, Kingston; 5. and 6. G. G. Bonderer, Moersville.

Corriedale—1. and 4. Charles S. Brown, Osborn; 2. Gene F. Wood, Laclede; 3. J. A. Davis, Parkville; 5. Karl J. Dieter, Marysville; Hampshire—1. and 4. Clifton H. Davis, Archie; 2. and 3. Herbert A. Duffy, Stephens; 5. Billy B. Carter, Norborne.

Shropshire—1. and 2. Crestview Stock Farm, Higbee.
Southdown—1. and 2. R. P. McWilliams, Gallatin.

Champion Fleece—Charles S. Brown, Osborn.
Reserve Champion Fleece—Gene F. Wood, Laclede.

Mississippi Demos Can Vote Democratic And Ballot for Ike

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi Democrats can vote their choice between Democratic presidential nominee Gov. Adlai Stevenson and GOP nominee Dwight Eisenhower on Nov. 4 without crossing party lines.

Democrats—for Eisenhower—helped the GOP in the traditionally unpopular Republican label in this "Solid South" state by pledging a slate of independent electors to him yesterday.

In this way Democratic supporters of the retired five-star general may vote for him without marking ballots for the Republican electors.

About 96 per cent of Mississippi's qualified voters are registered as Democrats.

INTRIM—Don McAuliffe, captain and halfback, gets the feel of the turf keeping in trim for the upcoming campaign by manhandling Michigan State's Macklin Field. (NEA) 1722. FRANKLIN'S Birth-place and Province House. Boston, Massachusetts.

LANDMARK IN HISTORY—In 1722, when the Royal Governor of Massachusetts stood on the balcony of Province House on Marlborough (now Washington) Street, Boston, he had no idea that a youngster, born in 1706, in the little house across the way, on the corner of Milk Street, would do much in the future, to deprive Provincial Governors of their jobs. This youngster was Benjamin Franklin, who would first become a printer's apprentice, then a successful publisher in Philadelphia and would climb the ladder of success until, in 1778, as American Ambassador to France, by statesmanship and tact, he would secure substantial aid from King Louis XVI. to help speed American Independence. Franklin lived before our "Four Freedoms" were known, but won success by using his four senses, sense of Justice, of Honor, of Humor, and "Horse Sense."

'Ding Dong Daddy' Sued for Divorce By One of 16 Wives

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Francis H. Van Wie, known as the "Ding Dong Daddy of the D Line," who tuned up with a new wife last week, has been sued for divorce by a previous spouse. The action boosts the 66-year-old former streetcar conductor's marital adventures to an apparent 16.

The suit, filed by Mrs. Martha Van Wie, 67, of Long Beach, came to light yesterday. She said they were married in Yuma, Ariz., in February, 1951, and separated the following June.

Van Wie's newest bride is the former Mrs. Amelia Pritchard, 73, whom he married recently in Las Vegas, Nev. She locked him out when she learned of his history. During Van Wie's bigamy trial he said he reckoned his marriage total at 14.

Hal Boyle' Column—

Mother Worries About How To Raise Son to Be President

NEW YORK (AP)—Every American boy has a chance to grow up to be president of the U. S.

And many a doting mother would like to help her offspring get the job.

"But how?" she asks herself, despairingly. "How can I rear my boy to be president?"

She knows how to train him to become a doctor or a mechanic. But what every mother ought to know, she doesn't know—how to train him for the White House.

And if she sets out unguided she can waste a lot of time and effort. She might, for example, go to the trouble of getting him born in a log cabin, when this is no longer politically necessary. As a matter of fact, the average voter today is downright suspicious of a candidate who was born in a log cabin. He thinks that is carrying the whole thing too far.

What a wise mother can do, however, is to try as much as possible to make Junior an all-American boy who appeals to all sections of the country. She might arrange to have him born in the rural area of a big farm state such as Illinois, spend his boyhood in California, and begin his career in New York.

He should be educated in the South, say at the University of North Carolina, and then take a law degree from Harvard University. His vacations should be spent working at different jobs in different states—on a ranch in Wyoming, in an auto factory in Michigan, aboard a shrimp boat off Louisiana.

Early in life she should teach Junior how to talk with his mouth full of pebbles, how to fish, and how to play some musical instrument. The best one is the tuba, as every man secretly would like to be able to blow a tuba. Junior also ought to always have a dog as a pet, to show his love of animals, and made to marry a girl who likes cats.

A wise mother will see that Junior does fairly well in school, but not too well. The voters are uneasy about a candidate who is too intelligent, and contemptuous of one who is too dumb.

The careful mother will also be aware of "The Doctrine of Prophetic Remarks." This is the theory that all presidents, even as boys, foresaw the grave problems of the future.

As the biggest problem likely to face most Americans in the next generation is where to park their motor car, the thoughtful mother could well have Junior, as a lisp-lad of five, look at a traffic jam and repeat after her:

"Some day I am going to strike a real blow at all this."

This will make a wonderful anecdote for his campaign biography.

Now all the mother must do before launching Junior into politics is to have him enlist for

Lone Bandit Gets $18,000 In Bank Holdup

Locks Two Officials And Customer In Vault At Reyno, Arkansas

REYNO, Ark. (U)—A lone bandit wearing a black mask robbed the Farmers and Merchants Bank here of about $18,000 today after locking two bank officials and a customer in the vault.

He escaped without leaving an apparent trail.

Police broadcast an alarm for a yellow convertible automobile seen parked near the bank just before the stickup.

Glenn Brown, vice president of the bank and one of the three persons locked in the vault, said the robber broke into the bank through a rear door sometime before 8:45 a. m. and hid until the bank opened.

Miss Otislean Ahrent, assistant cashier, was the only other bank employee on duty as the bank opened. Ron Athy, a customer, followed behind Brown and Miss Ahrent as they opened the front door.

Brown said the bandit stepped from behind a door at the rear of the bank.

"He had an automatic in his hand," Brown related. "It looked like a .38."

He brandished the gun and told us to get in there, motioning to a small room in front of the vault. We got in there."

Brown said the bandit ordered him and Athy to get down, on their knees and told Miss Ahrent to open the vault.

Miss Ahrent took money from the vault and stuffed it into a big paper bag handed her by the bandit. Brown added.

The trio was locked in the vault and the robber fled.

The first alarm was sounded until 20 minutes later, when another bank employee reported for work and released the imprisoned trio.

FBI, State Police and Randolph County officers said they had no leads.

Reyno is situated on U.S. Highway 67 in Northeast Arkansas, about 19 miles south of the Missouri state line.

Reyno's population is about 300.

Brown, who said he was too nervous to recall details, believed the robber was about six feet, one inch tall and wore overalls.

It was the second bank stickup and third big robbery in Northeast Arkansas in less than a month. Two men held up the Bank of Augusta July 28, escaping with about $6,000. Monday night a safe containing $65,000 in cash, bonds and checks was stolen from an automobile firm at "Black Rock."

Power Blow-Up Old Idea

TAIPEI, Formosa (U)—If Chinese engineers had their way four years ago, allied planes never would have had to destroy the great Yalu power plant recently.

A former official of the Manchurian electric system says the engineers wanted to blow up the whole Yalu power dam system when the Chinese Communists were overrunning Manchuria. He says the engineers' recommendations were forwarded to Nanking but no reply ever came from the government.

The nationalists say the Russians stripped two of the three power plants on the Yalu, leaving only the plant at Suifu, the one destroyed by Allied bombers.

The last eruption of Mt. Fuji, Japan's sacred volcano, was in 1707-8.

Those persons who have been unfortunate to have been losers can reclaim their articles at the Patrol Headquarters, located at the south end, and under the grandstand.

Clavin Hopes Sibley Quits

JEFFERSON CITY (U)—A post-election squabble has disturbed the office of Leo J. Clavin, state purchasing agent.

As of today, Clavin was on one side of the dispute and Roy E. Sibley, in charge of buying printing in Clavin's department, was on the other.

Clavin said he had invited Sibley to quit and had given him all the encouragement he could.

"I wish he would quit," Clavin told newsmen when they asked him about the dispute. He said he had a "go-round" with Sibley a couple of days ago over the way Sibley had been acting.

But Sibley said flatly, "I'm not quitting."

He attributed the dispute to the fact that he supported former Gov. Phil M. Donnelly for the Democratic nomination for governor during the primary campaign, while Clavin was working for Congressman Phil J. Welch.

Clavin said his differences with Sibley were long standing.

"I should have gotten rid of him three years ago," Clavin said. He said he "inherited" Sibley when he took over direction of the State Division of Procurement.

But Sibley dated the disagreement to the recent primary campaign. He said he had no animosity toward anyone but definitely did not plan to quit his $4,000 job.

Clavin said part of the trouble stemmed from the fact Sibley has been Cole County Democratic chairman—a post to which he was re-elected yesterday. The purchasing agent said he thought no state employee should hold such a party job.

Clavin said he did not plan to fire Sibley, but hoped his resignation would be submitted soon.

Thursday Is Garden Club Day at Fair

Thursday at the Missouri State Fair will be Garden Club Federation Day.

The register will be in the Floriculture Building where local garden club women will be welcome the visiting garden club members from over the state. In charge of the register will be the state contact committee of the Sedalia Garden Clubs, Mrs. Nathan Jones, general chairman, Mrs. Frank S. Leach, Mrs. Marvin Crutcher, Mrs. W. H. Eichholz, Mrs. D. O. Potter, Mrs. W. W. Murphy, Mrs. A. J. Gregory, Mrs. E. J. Thomas, Mrs. George Dryden, and Mrs. Chester A. Brown.

Mrs. L. H. Hodges, president of the Sedalia Council of Garden Clubs, presidents of the various clubs and other officers will also be at the Floriculture Building through the day to meet the members of the Missouri Federation of Garden Clubs attending the fair.

Farm Bureau Hopes Adlai Adopts Plan

At Present Ike's Platform Has More Room for Program

WASHINGTON (U)—A spokesman for the American Farm Bureau Federation said Wednesday there is "more room" for that organization's type of federal farm policies than in the Democratic platform.

But the bureau was described as being "hopeful" that Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate, will endorse farm policies more friendly to the bureau's position than that taken in the Democratic platform.

This information was given newsmen at an informal conference by Roger Fleming, executive secretary and legislative counsel, and other bureau officials.

Bureau President Allan B. Kline has been a sharp critic of many farm policies advocated by President Hoover and Secretary of Agriculture Brannan.

Fleming said the bureau has not and will not endorse any candidate or party. He said individual members of the organization will be free to vote as they see fit. He added, however, that the bureau would take steps to inform its members of the farm policy views of the presidential candidates.

The farm organization officials said that the farm plank in the Democratic platform was drafted principally by Brannan and Chairman Cooley (D-NC) of the House Agriculture Committee, and that the major farm organizations had little to say about it.

They said the Republican farm plank, on the other hand, was written largely by farmers.

LaRue and Siska Entertain Today For Optimist Club

The Optimist Club had as its guests Tuesday Lash LaRue and Siska, "The Girl With The Green Hair", from the Cetlin-Wilson Shows on the State-Fair midway.

Richmond Cox, publicity director for Cetlin-Wilson, introduced LaRue, western movie-star, who stated that he also publishes a comic book, with a monthly circulation of one million copies. He presents one of these comics to every child attending the Lash LaRue Show on the midway. Lash is a very interesting young man and has his special built sports-car with him in Sedalia. Lash invited the members to attend his show and bring the family.

Miss "Siska" was on hand to give a few remarks about her work. She stated that the green hair was a part of her business and is the only hair of this shade in existence. Her show is performed with a live Macaw which is named "Sis". Both Lash and Siska are doing from 12 to 14 shows per day and find it a rather strenuous routine.

Charles Hanna presided at the meeting. Dr. B. E. Klein was program chairman who introduced Mr. Cox. Guests of the club were Drs. T. J. Hopkins and A. L. Lowe, and Abe Silverman, with Claude Boul: Tom Sawyer, Skelly Oil Co., with Cal Rodgers. Miss Lillian Fox was pianist.

Bids Asked for Saline County Road Project

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. — The State Highway Commission today called for bids Sept. 4 on an estimated $1,110,000 worth of road repairs and materials.

The only major system project is on route 240 in Saline County, to replace three short sections of 20-foot pavement washed out by flood waters about three miles west of Glasgow.

Steel for two bridges also will be sought. Previous efforts to get bids for these projects failed when contractors were asked to supply the steel.

Nationalist Trade Balance Favorable

TAIPEH, Formosa — The Chinese Nationalists had a favorable balance of trade of more than nine million dollars in the first five months of the year, thanks to increased production in all fields, the Ministry of Economic Affairs reports. Increased production was noted in rice, sugar, cement, salt, coal, textiles and fertilizer.

Japanese 'Ghost Town'

TOKYO — A company decision to close Japan's most famous gold mine seems likely to establish a Western-style "ghost town" in the Orient.

Some 580 miners and the town of 10,000 which depends upon the mine are protesting against the shutdown on historic Sado Island, once a place of exile for Japan's emperors.

The vein was struck 351 years ago and has been worked almost steadily ever since. Once the mine employed 100,000 men but now the payroll has petered out.

Rattlesnakes On The Move

REGINA, Canada — Rattlesnakes are on the increase in Saskatchewan and naturalists blame Alberta's expanding irrigation works.

Fred Bard, director of the provincial museum, says he believes that irrigation in Alberta is flooding land where the rattlers used to make their home. To find drier living quarters, the snakes have moved east into Saskatchewan.

J. J. Deck, whose hobby is catching rattlers, reports that the rattlesnakes are generally following the direction of the South Saskatchewan River. He says he has killed 50 rattlers in less than an hour near the river.

Odds and Ends
By News Staff

Dyed-in-the-wool Sedalians have land marks dear to their hearts and they resent any changes.

"Why?" asked a woman, "Are they naming the new addition Circle Drive? Why don't they call it Bunker Hill addition — as long as I can remember that has been Bunker Hill."

The firm laying out the new addition probably had no idea they were leveling down Bunker Hill — a place that had been a playground for youngsters a generation ago — yes, and the generation before that — and maybe even farther back. To them it was just a good place to put a new addition — and to them Circle Drive was a good name. But to some of the Sedalians who roamed over Bunker Hill — who fought in many of the mock battles and Indian fights there — the name should still be Bunker Hill, even though the little hill is now as flat as a pancake and will soon be covered with pretty little new homes.

It is strange how you can tear down buildings, cut down trees, level little hills — but you can never erase childhood memories. To many Sedalians, that little ridge which was called Bunker Hill will live forever in their hearts. — H.L.

In one Sedalia family there had been one bunch of company after another for several weeks. One group would not sooner leave than another would come and sometimes faster than that. There were children, too, and so, in a letter to her aunt, one of the women in the household told about the string of company they had been having.

A day or so later she was surprised to receive a sympathy card from her aunt — she just couldn't imagine why — then she knew — it was in sympathy for all the company she had been having. — H.L.

These days youngsters hear so much all the time about things going on in the world that things try, in their own minds, to solve some of the problems.

Recently an eight year old boy who had evidently heard something about Indo-China, sat at the table eating his breakfast. All of a sudden he looked up at his mother and said: "Mom, I was thinking of Indo-China, why don't we fight Outdoor China?" — H. L.

The two year old boy had been naughty and his daddy sat him down in his little chair and told him to sit there as he was naughty. He sat for awhile, then, picked up the chair into which he was still tightly stuck, he moved over to another spot.

"Mommie," he said, "Tell Daddy I moved a itty bit." — H.L.

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Missouri's 27th annual State Fair opened Saturday, Aug. 20. Among the events for the day was the dedication of the new administration building, Major General H. A. Smith and Gov. Sam A. Baker being the speakers.

Harry D. Frueauff, general manager of the City Light & Traction Company until about 12 years ago, was a Sedalia visitor. He was then one of the officials of the Henry L. Doherty Company in New York City.

Rev. A. H. Stevens, Broken Bow, Okla., a former pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church here, was spending a few days with friends in the city.

Kenneth Lander, head of the sales department of the public utilities at Asbury Park, N. J., was here visiting relatives. He formerly resided here.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Otto Francke, a cutter at Lamy's overalls and shirt factory, was struck by lightning and instantly killed while on his way to work.

William S. Dixon, attending Moody Bible Institute in Chicago, was home for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. B. Dixon.

Mayor F. L. Ludemann left for Monticello, Ark., for a visit to farm interests he holds there.

Lightning struck a large barn of J. L. Butterworth, of this city, near Cole Camp. It was destroyed together with 700 bushels of oats and about 20 tons of timothy hay.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round System of Naming Presidential Candidates in Need of Reform

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1931, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON — The 1932 Democratic and Republican national conventions are now a page in history. But for the first time more than 60,000,000 Americans have become intimately acquainted with such a page is not too clean.

The candidates for the highest office in the land emerged from two gigantic jamborees. Those jamborees served as a false front for the back-room deals of a small group of political leaders.

Luckily, the 1932 conventions came forward with two fine candidates. However, several times in the past half-century Democratic and Republican bosses have blatantly disregarded the will of their party's rank and file. In one case, that of Warren G. Harding, a boss-selected candidate succeeded in becoming president. Everyone knows the result — the Teapot Dome scandal of 1923.

None Could Feel Cheated

Although the two 1932 conventions came up with good candidates there are still many people who, rightly or wrongly, feel that they have been cheated out of a chance to vote for their first choice in November. Our democracy is today marred by the paradox of 60,000,000 "voiceless" citizens in our nonprimary states. If all the people had the opportunity to vote in presidential primaries no one could ever rightfully feel that he had been cheated out of a chance to vote for his man in November. Primaries enable the people to speak in clear and unmistakable terms as to whose name they want to see underneath their party's emblem.

Television has shown Americans everywhere that to make democracy live the present system of nominating presidential candidates must be reformed. But how? The ideal method is one of adopting a constitutional amendment which has been proposed by Sen. George A. Smathers (D., Fla.). The Smathers proposal for a national primary is similar to the one suggested by Woodrow Wilson in 1912. I am a co-sponsor of the Smathers National-Primary Amendment and intend to do my utmost either to insure its passage, or a substantially similar amendment, at the next session of Congress.

However, there are those who have a vested interest in the status quo and they may do everything in their power to block the Smathers amendment, or one like it. Should this prove to be the case, those of us who are backing the amendment may have to compromise with this group. I think we might then settle for the presidential preference primary bill which Rep. Charles E. Bennett (D., Fla.) and I introduced in the last session of Congress.

States Encouraged Financially. Our primary bill seeks to increase the number of primaries now held. Its passage would be an important step forward in our march toward a national presidential primary. It directs the attorney general to negotiate agreements with the states for the holding of preference primaries before July 1 of a presidential election year. The states are encouraged to enter into such agreements with the attorney general since, if they do, they will receive financial assistance for the use of their election facilities and services.

These agreements would provide for a payment which is limited to not more than 20 per cent for each vote cast in a presidential preference primary. The attorney general would be given the responsibility for carrying the bill's provisions into effect. In cooperation with the states, he could make such determinations as qualifying deadlines, primary dates, terms of agreements with the states, how binding the primaries are to be upon the delegates, etc.

Even though the preference primaries conducted under the sponsorship of the attorney general would not legally bind the national convention delegates to vote on all ballots for their state's presidential preference, they would serve as a strong persuasive influence on the delegates.

After watching the national conventions on television the people are, I believe, determined to get their rightful say in the selection, as well as the election, of the president of the United States. The people are increasingly refusing to be shunted aside in the nominating process. The grass-roots feeling for a national primary is tremendous. Let the voice of the people be heard!

Kansas City Man First Non-Korea Draftee Released

FT. LEONARD WOOD — Cpl. Thomas J. Akins, 27, Kansas City, will say "goodbye" to the Army Wednesday, the first of thousands of non-Korean draftees under the Selective Service Act of 1930 to be separated.

Akins was the first man to be drafted into the army just two years ago.

After his induction at Ft. Knox, Ky., and his basic training there, Akins was ordered to Ft. Leonard Wood where he has served as a cadetman.

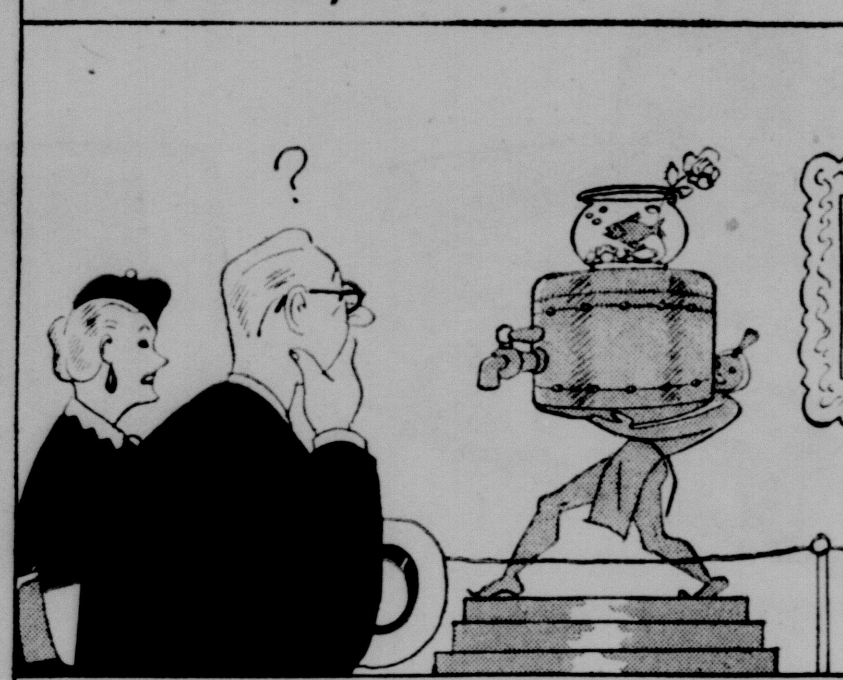

Many selectees, drafted since Akins, and who served overseas have been separated. Draftees who serve overseas become eligible for separation at the end of 21 months, those who serve in the U. S. must complete a full two years service.

The tide is a reddish-brown discoloration of the sea water caused by the sudden and luxuriant flowering of millions of microscopic, free-floating plants in the surface layers of the ocean. In Mexican waters the red tide is sometimes believed responsible for poisoning millions of fish.

LOUISE WESTON lifted little Adele Miller down from the model's platform and gave her a kiss. "Are you tired, honey?"

"No, not very," Adele's childish voice replied. "May I look?"

"Yes, indeed, you may."

Louise led the little girl around to the front of the big easel that was now supporting a finished portrait of the little girl. Adele stared at it solemnly for a few minutes. Then she looked up at Louise, a smile breaking through the seriousness of her face.

"It's very nice," she said, "and I think it looks like me, only I'm not always as pretty as that."

"Goodness, you're modest!" Louise laughed gaily. "You must be sure to come to the Exhibit to see how your picture looks along side of the other portraits."

"Yes, Mrs. Weston, I'll come," Adele promised. "Daddy said he'd take me."

Louise helped the child into her hat and coat and went with her to the door. A car with a uniformed chauffeur was standing at the curb. Adele ran down the steps and disappeared into the depths of the car.

Louise went back into her studio. It was a large room that extended across the back of a house on Lefferts Place. Harry had made quite a fuss after she told him about renting a studio.

"I don't know what you want to do that for," he had blurted out angrily. "It seems to me there's room enough in your own house for any painting you may want to do. It's just an excuse for getting out of your house-work."

Louise had smiled at him quite unperturbed. She refused to argue with him about the matter.

She had come home late in August after a summer in Provincetown. With a beautiful and becoming tan she had acquired a poise, a self-assurance that baffled her husband. She was only sorry that she couldn't tell Harry about that wonderful summer. She had registered at an art school with a great deal of trepidation, sure that she was too old to go back to lessons, fearful that the other students would hold her up to ridicule for presuming at her age to compete with rising young artists.

The class had met in the mornings in an old barn up on a hill. To the surprise of Louise, entering timidly on the first day, there were several gray-headed men busily setting up their easels and one or two women who looked to be much older than she was.

She began to feel more assurance. When the model took her place on the platform and Louise began squeezing out colors on her palette, her heart was so filled with a joyous excitement that her hand trembled as she reached for a brush.

Far from laughing at her, the other students looked at her work respectfully and even asked her advice upon occasion.

THE summer had agreed with the children, too, she thought, as she took off her paint-smeared smock and tidied up the studio. Ted had loved his summer at camp and it had done him a world of good. And Eleanor had gotten a job and had gone off to business every day with her father, feeling very important and pleased to be earning $8 a week. The housekeeper Louise had engaged was capable, efficient and kindly. Louise had asked her to stay on after she returned from the Cape.

Yes, it had all worked out very well for everybody except Harry. He had not been happy at all about the arrangements. Louise had made them without consulting him. And yet he had no real reason to complain now. She was always home when he returned from work. And her certainly could not accuse her of neglecting the children. They were having a very happy family life, she considered. She would, of course, drop her painting at once if she thought it was necessary for the well-being of her children.

She put the kettle on the gas ring and got out the tea things. The children liked to have tea at the studio occasionally. Today she had persuaded Harry to stop in on his way home from work. It would be fun to hear what they thought of the portrait of little Adele Miller.

She arranged on a plate the cakes she had bought on her way to the studio. Then while waiting for the kettle to boil she picked up a book. The Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam that Ted was always quoting. One stanza pleased her so much:

"A book of verses underneath the bough,
A loaf of bread, a jug of wine, and thou,
Beside me, singing in the wilderness—
Ah, wilderness were paradise enow."

Louise let the book lie in her lap.

THAT'S it, she nodded her head thoughtfully. Mr. Khayyam knows. There must be a book and a dear companion. The bread and wine alone are not enough. And if Harry only knew it, Louise was sure she would not have been so good a companion to him if she had not had the desire to paint deep in her heart, even when she wasn't using it.

The kettle was boiling furiously. She got up to turn down the gas, and then Harry opened the door and looked in.

As if he expected to find somebody here, Louise thought. Probably that was why he hated the studio. Harry had heard such wild stories about artists.

As named of her unkind thoughts, Louise smiled at her husband radiantly.

"Do come in, Harry," she said, going toward him, her hands outstretched. She stood on tiptoe to kiss him, and his arms drew her close for a moment.

Margaret T's Body Guards Irk Sweden

STOCKHOLM, Sweden — Margaret Truman's three American body guards were making no friends and influencing some newspapers in Sweden today. The papers don't like them.

Several papers charged the three U. S. Secret Service men accompanying the President's daughter on her European tour were armed and were pushing Swedish citizens around in bullying fashion.

One paper wondered why Miss Truman needed an American guard anyway. After all, commented Aftonbladet, "we understand that she is not going to sing here."

Police Chief Erik Ros said he had ordered an investigation of the newspaper complaints but added he would have no comment on the case until a full report was made.

In Washington, the State Department said the U. S. Embassy in Stockholm had denied there had been any such incidents as the Swedish press reported.

The Swedish Foreign Office also indicated that one of the alleged instances of mistreatment—newspaper charges that the bodyguards had kept reporters and photographers out of Stockholm City Hall while Miss Truman visited there—was exaggerated.

The Foreign Office said Miss Truman's guard, who reportedly stopped a reporter and a photographer, had not acted offensively. He politely told the men, "No pictures, please."

Miss Truman has been in Sweden since Sunday on a European tour. Washington sources identified her bodyguard as Secret Service agents assigned by the Treasury Department to protect the President and his family.

Price War Trims Barbers

NOBLE, Ill. — This Southern Illinois town's two barber shops got into a short-lived price war and both barbers suffered a trimming.

Prices at the shops, separated only by a building, went from 75-cent hair cuts to free ones. Such a rush developed that Barber Elmer Craven closed his shop at noon one day and Barber Joe Smith locked his door but let customers in one at a time.

Street Attacks On Yanks in Iran Communies Renew

TEHRAN, Iran — Communists renewed street attacks on U. S. military personnel today, stoning two cars in which Americans were riding.

A spokesman for the American Army mission in Iran said "preliminary reports" indicated the rocks bounced off the body of one car without injuring two Army majors inside.

Other reports said rocks were thrown at another car in which a U. S. non-commissioned officer was riding but the stones sailed harmlessly over the automobile.

There were growing indications that martial law, lifted only last week, would be reimposed shortly.

The government was forced to call out troops last night to quell Communist youths, wielding knives and rocks, who battled police and soldiers in the center of the city. Two policemen and one soldier were stabbed in the skirmish before the rioters fled under a tear gas attack.

It was the first time troops had been used since martial law was lifted.

15-Minute Limit For Lover's Lane Parking of Autos

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. — The Fayetteville City Council took strong steps last night to discourage "nocturnal nonsense" in the city.

It placed a 15-minute parking limit on this university town's most popular lover's lane.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

How Nervy Can a "Tenant" Get?

"Harry the Hermit" dropped in to see Judge Cunningham the other day and started complaining about that dilapidated house he lives in over near Greenwood Lake.

"Who's my landlord?" Harry wanted to know. "Whoever you pay rent to," says the Judge. "Don't pay any rent," says Harry. "Moved into that house twelve years ago and nobody ever came to collect."

"Well," says the Judge, looking mystified, "what do you have to complain about?" "Plenty," replies Harry. "Rain's pouring in my living room and if someone doesn't fix that roof, I'm moving out!"

Now Harry was only having a little joke, but from where I sit I've seen people act just about as nervy as this sometimes—seriously. Like those who enjoy all the rights Americans have worked for, and yet would take away some of those freedoms from others—for example, our right to enjoy a friendly glass of beer. I say these "leaks of intolerance" have no place in the "home of liberty."

British Union Warns Wage Hike Can Wreck Nation

LONDON (AP) — Leaders of Britain's powerful Trades Union Congress (TUC) have warned workers that widely demanded general wage increases might bring economic catastrophe by making the nation's exports too expensive for world markets.

The warning was issued last night by the TUC's General Council in its annual report to the eight million members of unions affiliated with the congress.

It came at a time when many unions are demanding pay boosts of up to two pounds ($5.00) a week to meet the rising cost of living.

So far, Prime Minister Winston Churchill's government has turned down these demands. It claims the cost of living will remain steady unless widespread wage increases drive costs up.

Although the TUC is known as the backbone of Britain's out-of-office Labor party, the General Council's report, in effect, agreed with the government. The TUC had similarly supported wage hold-downs of the previous Labor government.

"We face the danger today that higher costs may so force up the prices of our exports as to make them unsaleable," the congress report declared.

The report said greater productivity was the only solution to Britain's economic difficulties. To achieve an expansion of production and trade, the union leaders suggested the government should maintain or re-introduce controls for the allocation of scarce materials. They also advocated further transfer of manpower and materials between industries.

Italians In Belgian Mines

BRUSSELS (AP) — Fifty-one thousand out of the 160,000 coal-miners working in Belgium's pits are Italians, according to the Belgian minister of labor.

The total figure for foreign labor in Belgian coal mines is 72,081. Next in order are the 8,287 Poles, 3,036 Dutch, 2,092 Germans, 1,356 French, 1,320 Ukrainians and 1,092 North Africans.

Conservation of Natural Resources, Vast Exhibit of Commission Interests Fairgoers

An ever-increasing number of Missourians realize that they, and their ancestors, have made a big mistake—they have ignored conservation of land and wildlife. They want to remedy their errors, and the place to find the cures is at the Missouri Conservation Commission's display at the Fairgrounds.

And that is exactly what most fairgoers are doing.

According to members of the Commission, the State Park Dept. and the Forestry Service working at this year's fair, their patrons have asked more (and more intelligent) questions than ever before.

Since conservation is a large field, the questions vary, but somewhere in the exhibit there is a man to answer most questions. Let's take a look at what the Commission Building offers.

Located midway between the main entrances is the general information booth. There most questions of a general nature are handled by Guy Sweeton of Clinton and Kenneth Alderman of Warsaw, both Conservation Commission agents, and Miss Peggy Thompson of the Commission office in Jefferson City.

They find that a majority of persons are interested in prospects for the approaching quail and deer hunting season. Other popular queries cover explanations of fishing and hunting regulations and requests for data on farm ponds.

Many of these questions can be answered at the booth; others are of a technical nature and the inquirer is sent to a specialist in that particular field.

If a person asks for specific details on deer, he is sent to Dean Murphy of Columbia, who is the Commission's deer research biologist. Murphy's booth is the first one along the north wall as you enter the building. He finds most of his questions center around the effect of the 1951 hunting season on the deer herd, and of course, the outlook for this year.

Murphy is able to send most people away in a happy frame of mind. The Missouri herd is in better shape than in many seasons. He does note, however, a slight decline in counties which had the "any deer" season in 1951. This results from the reproduction loss due to death of many does.

Of prime interest is the dates of the 1952 deer season. The Commission has set it between the general dates of Nov. 1 and 10, the specific length to be decided later. This general period has been noted to allow deer hunters to arrange for vacations, etc.

If exact data is asked on farm ponds or land conservation, the questioner is referred to the next-to-the-last display along the north wall. Here Ray Wells of Cameron, Dick Roatsch of Kansas City and Oatis Thornburn of Cameron and Cecil Davis of Bethany, who work in the field service section of the commission's field division, clarify matters.

These men point-out the benefits to both farmer and fisherman to be gained by ponds, contour plowing and general soil conservation.

Missouri now has more than 80,000 stocked farm ponds (which leads the nation). The Commission started the project in 1938, but now works in conjunction with the PMA and county agents.

The increasingly popular soil erosion stoppers, and cover providers, multi-flora rose and contour work, also come in for their share of notice.

But most interest centers around the Commission's monthly publication, the Missouri Conservationist. Patrons can enter their names on the free-subscription list at this booth. The magazine, edited by Dan Saults, is regarded as one of the best of its type. Saults also is among the members of the fair exhibition staff.

At the rear of the building on the north side is the state parks display. Here Charles L. Robinson of Jefferson City, a member of the State Park Dept., passes on information on this often-overlooked development of Missouri.

Oddly enough, few Missourians know the facilities state parks provide. To illustrate this, Robinson points-out that a large percentage of park users come from outside.

Missouri has 23 parks which provide facilities for all outdoor lovers (and fishermen in particular). Virtually every park has fishing, and it's good. Added attractions include camping grounds, cabins, hotel rooms, meals, coves and boats.

Three areas (Bennett Springs, Roaring River and Montauk) have trout fishing and all but three provide stocked water which contains game fish.

The two which annually draw the most people are Big Lake, located in the northwest corner of the state, and the aforementioned Roaring River situated in the southwest extremity of Missouri. Trout draw people from a four-state area to Roaring River, and ducks and bass attract them from a similar locale to Big Lake.

At the southwest corner of the building a model Ozark sawmill, operated by Herschel Bledsel of Camdenton and Bob Ralsch of Irontown attracts many fairgoers.

While the sawmill's song draws the crowd, the rest of the display carries the real message. This state provides 500,000 board feet of lumber per year, for its 6 1/2 million acres of forest land, and is a national leader in the production of railroad ties. The benefits of proper woodlot and walnut grove "management" are illustrated, and the tragic loss due to fire is cited. Knowledge of timber and its strong and weak points can provide the farmer a source of posts, firewood and cash—and at the same time conserve land and wildlife.

Two other displays worth examining concern trapping of predatory animals and the control of squirrels. These may be found near the rear of the building—predators on the north side and squirrels on the south.

Down the center of the building is an aquarium which contains most of the fish found in Missouri, both game and non-game. These fish are kept strictly for display purposes at the fair. They spend their year at Chesapeake state hatchery near Mt. Vernon. Must be old hands at the fair—the fresh-water eel, for instance, is currently playing his 16th consecutive performance.

plays is the rock pool located at the east end of the aquarium. Here the stars of the show, two blue catfish which weigh in the neighborhood of 14 pounds each, endure the admiring glances and yardstick jabs of the patrons.

Conspicuous by their absence this year are the snake cages. The reason is simple—the snakes are too hard to care for. The main purpose of showing them in the past years was to familiarize Missourians with the beneficial reptiles and those of a poisonous nature. Now the Commission has printed a bulletin which covers the subject; it may be obtained by writing the head office in Jefferson City.

Outside the building to the north, pens contains a deer (which daily eats more popcorn and peanuts than any 20 persons at the fair), and cages hold squirrels, foxes and the rare badger.

And finally, at the rear of the building a casting pool is a busy place during the daylight hours with expert and novice alike trying their skill with the bait-casting rod. The accomplished fisherman can improve his technique, and the newcomer may obtain instruction from competent teachers.

Yes, judging from persons who are attending the Missouri State Fair, this state is taking steady strides toward correcting conservation errors in the past—the future looks bright.

It is believed that we are using the same water that existed on earth when the world began, although it has been turned from liquid to vapor or ice and back again many, many times.

Ft. Wood Wins Second Game In National

WICHITA, Mo. — An unheralded Louisiana town team knocked off the Sinton, Tex., Oilers, defending champions, in their first start Tuesday night in the 1952 national non-pro baseball tournament.

The Ponchatoula, La., Athletics rallied in the late innings to score a stunning 3-2 upset over the Texans. The Ponchatoula pitcher, Glen Thompson, limited the Oilers to four hits while his team pounded out six.

Sinton, however, still has a chance to retain its title. It takes two losses to eliminate a team from the tournament.

In other action Tuesday Ft. Dix, N. J., eliminated the Perry, Okla., Oilers with an 8-0 victory and Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., moved into the third round by walloping the Guam Marines 13-3.

Ft. Dix has a 1-1 record and Ft. Leonard Wood a 2-0 mark.

Wednesday's schedule (times Central Standard):
3 p. m.—San Diego Marines vs. Sinton, Tex. (loser eliminated).
5:45 p. m.—Silver City, Miss., vs. Crossville, Tenn. (first round).
8 p. m.—Wichita Boeving Bombers vs. Milwaukee, Wis., Harnisch-Fegers (second round).
10 p. m.—Ft. Ord, Calif., vs. Camp Lejeune, N. C., Marines (second round).

Double Round Of U.S. Amateur Golf Tourney

SEATTLE, Wash. — The double round of the U.S. Amateur Golf Championship today had such standout challenges as Frank Stranahan, Harvey Ward Jr., and Charlie Coe were expected to survive the crush.

Sixty-four players remained in the field this morning, awaiting the day's double round.

By nightfall at the Seattle Country Club, they will have whittled each other down to a select 16.

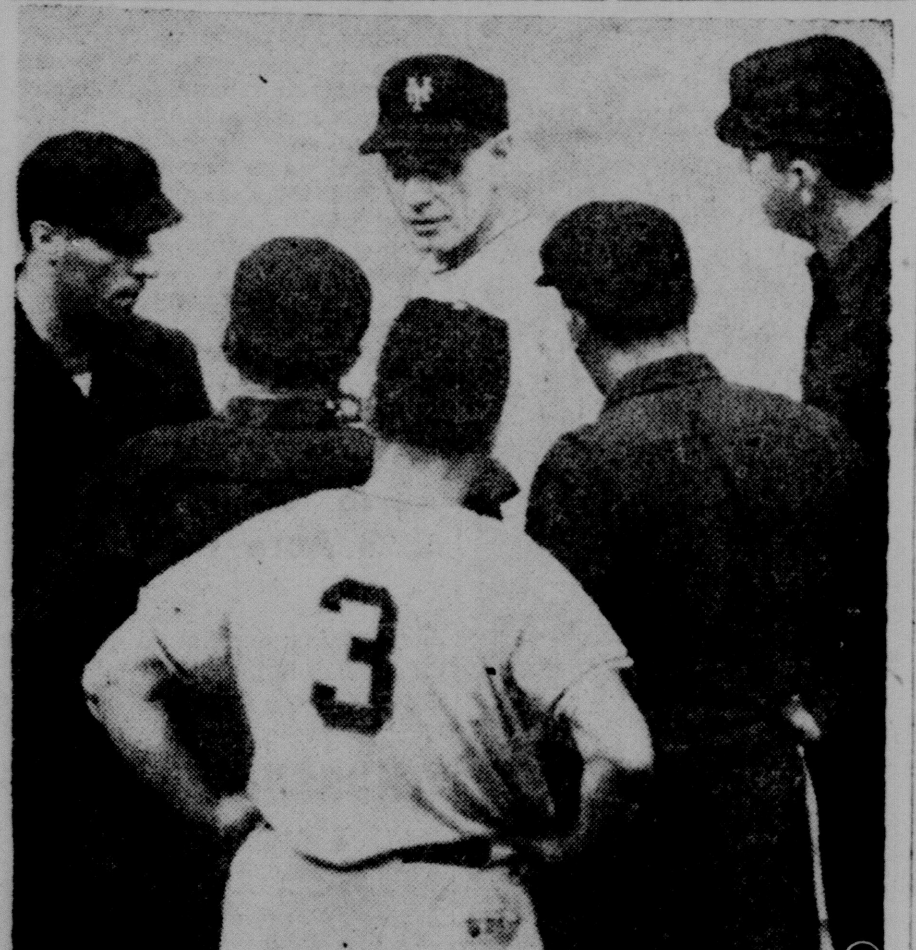

Stranahan, Toledo's two-time British amateur winner, who got past a tough one when he beat Chuck Kocsis, Royal Oak, Mich., yesterday, 3 and 2, faced Del Walker of Long Beach, runner-up for the Southern California title last year.

Coe, the 1949 U. S. champion, from Oklahoma City, met John Levinson of Niles, Mich. Coe belted out a fellow townsman, Russell Brown, 5 and 4.

Two major upsets were registered late yesterday.

The first came when Robert W. Kuntz of Larchmont, N. Y., former Yale captain and U. S. Marine, eliminated Joe Gagliardi of Marquette, N. Y., runner-up for the crown at Bethlehem, Pa., last year. Kuntz won 1 up.

The second came when Billy J. Patton of Morgantown, N. C., ended a one-day joy of 18-year-old Ira Gruber, Duke University star from Pottstown, Pa. Gruber made the Moments later black clouds roiled Ebbets Field and the Giants' manager won his point. Listening, left to right, were Umpires Donatelli, Ballanfant, Al Barlick and Tom Gorman. Lively Lady Takes Feature On Tuesday Fair Race Card

It was a great day at the Missouri State Fair track Tuesday when the Grand Circuit presented a "double feature" race program. The racing event scheduled for Monday was postponed and was run along with the regular Tuesday schedule, giving harness horse fans 22 heats of racing.

Topping the day's track card was the eighth straight major Grand Circuit win by Lively Lady, a fleet filly from Wooster, O., who took the $7,585 Breeder's Filly Stake. Dr. A. R. McCombs, Sturgeon, presented a trophy to Del Miller, the driver of Lively Lady, who accepted it in behalf of its owner, the Gay Acres Stables, Wooster, O.

Sedalia's own Frank Ervin drove home to victory behind Almiria Hanover, in the 24-class trot, to capture the $2,000 purse. The owner, Dr. James M. McNally, Bellwood, Neb., saw his horse win for the first time. It took two firsts last week on the Grand Circuit, but Dr. McNally wasn't on hand.

It actually was filly day on the Grand Circuit, with four of ten races, all rich stakes, devoted to the members of the weaker sex. Galletta, Jimmy Arthur up, took down the winner's share of the $5,145, 3-year-old pace. Precious Hal, with Ralph Baldwin in the sulky, won the $7,085 2-year-old pace. And Lu Peck, Harry Fritzpatrick driving, copped the $6,070 3-year-old trot.

Four Games, 4 Homers

PHILADELPHIA — When Detroit's Steve Soucek walked off a home run in Tuesday night's game against the A's, it was the fourth straight game in which the Tiger outfielder had connected for the circuit. The major league record for consecutive game homers is seven held jointly by Long George Kelly and Walker Cooper, both of the New York Giants.

Yogi's 25th 4-Bagger

NEW YORK — Yogi Berra's 25th home run in the fifth inning of Tuesday night's game against Chicago put the Yankee backstop only one behind the league leader, Cleveland's Larry Doby.

Weight Lifter

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — The American Olympic team might have fared even better in the weight lifting classes last summer if Bloomington police had caught a certain thief. Authorities are still seeking the man who took a 1,000-pound length of pipe and a 300-pound manhole casting from city property.

Chiefs Play Holden There In Warm-up

Sedalia Chiefs, who play next week here for the championship of the Central Missouri Ban Johnson League's full season, will get warmed up for the big event when they play the Holden Chiefs at Holden Thursday night.

Cal Rodgers, manager, asks the Chiefs to meet at 5 p.m. Thursday at his garage to make the trip to Holden.

Victory over the Mexico Ramblers tonight at Mexico would mean the Central Missouri Ban Johnson League's second half pennant for the Moberly Miners.

Manager Jim Hampton's Miners will take a 6-game string of victories into their final regular season game. They assured themselves of at least a tie by scoring a pair of wins over Sedalia. The twin setbacks, administered last Tuesday at Sedalia, 1-0, and 6-1 at Moberly Sunday, knocked the first-half champions out of the race.

Should Mexico snap Moberly's string of conquests the Ramblers then must beat the fourth-place Columbia Chevroleets to gain a tie. This game, postponed from Aug. 7, has not been rescheduled. One other postponement, Columbia at Sedalia, is on the books. The only other contest scheduled this week sends Brookfield to Columbia Thursday night.

The playoff between the Central Missouri League's first and second-half champions will open Aug. 26 in Sedalia. Plans for the best three-out-of-five series were drawn at a league meeting at Moberly Sunday.

Trophy awards were made in the ten races. The winner of the first race received the trophy from Dr. A. R. McCombs, Sturgeon; second race trophy presented by Charles Israel, Kansas City; third race trophy by Rex Larkin, director of the Lexington Trot, Lexington, Ky.; fourth trophy by Walter Candler, Decatur, Ga.; fifth race, by Mrs. Rex Larkin, Lexington, Ky.; sixth race by Mrs. Frank Irvin, Sedalia, Mo., and Alkin N. C. S. seventh race by Mrs. Rollo E. Singleton, Columbia, Mo., wife of the secretary of the Fair; eighth race by Dean John Longwood, of the College of Agriculture, University of Missouri; ninth race by Milton Carpenter, contractor of the City of St. Louis; and tenth race by J. R. Eckenberger, Mexico, Mo.

No Walks in No. 20

PITTSBURGH — Robin Roberts, who became the first 1952 National League 20-game winner Tuesday night, is a man of few walks. The brilliant Philadelphia righthander, who did not issue a base on balls in going the route against the Bucs, has passed only 32 batsmen in 243 innings this season.

Staley Hex's Jinx

ST. LOUIS — The Boston Braves no longer are a jinx team to Gerry Staley. The durable Cardinal hurler turned back Charley Grimm's club for the second time this season last night. He had beaten them only once against seven losses up to this year.

Browns Strand 921

WASHINGTON — The St. Louis Browns, who stranded 15 runners in Tuesday night's game against the Senators, now have 921 men left on base so far this season. The Chicago White Sox with 938 top the American League in the LOB department.

Roberts Wins His No. 20 Over Pirates

PITTSBURGH — Robin Roberts, the Philadelphia Phillies righthander, took a big bite out of a sandwich, gulped a glass of milk and said:

"Sure, I've won 20 games but I'm not predicting how many more I'll win this season—I'm just looking to win No. 21 whenever it comes."

Roberts made the statement—a long one for him—shortly after he had pitched the Phillies to a 10-5 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates last night. It not only was his 20th victory of the season but his ninth win in a row. He gave up 12 hits but he was master of the situation when the chips were down.

The victory marked the third consecutive year that Roberts has won 20 or more games. In 1951 he had a 21-15 mark and the year before 20-11.

In last night's game he loaded the bases in the first inning on three hits but the Bucs scored only one run off him. After getting Ralph Kiner on a foul he struck out Gus Bell and was nearly out of the jam when one of his pitches nicked George Melloch, forcing a run. Roberts clantly settled down and got Joe Garagiola on a foul.

"That pitching demonstrates what kind of a hurler Robin is," said Manager Steve O'Neill after the game. "When the going gets rough Roberts has the speed to overpower the batter. And he's got a swell curve and great slider." O'Neill, who came to the Phillies a few weeks ago after spending many years managing and coaching in the American League, said Roberts compares very favorably with Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians when he was in his hey-day.

Philadelphia Has Only 20 Game Winners

By JOE REICHLER AP Sports Writer

Who is the best pitcher in baseball today?

The folks of little Pottstown, Pa., point to their own Bobby Shantz, the pint-sized southpaw of the Athletics as the game's top hurler. On the other hand, the good citizens of Springfield, Ill., contend that their Robin Roberts, the pride of the Phillies, is the best in the business.

At any rate, one thing is certain. The Philadelphia clubs own the only 20-game winners in the majors leagues today. Shantz was the first to reach the charmed circle, notching his 20th triumph Aug. 5. Roberts, who joined him yesterday became the first National Leaguer to reach that total.

Roberts coasted to his 22nd complete game in 28 starts Tuesday night as the Phils outslugged Pittsburgh, 10-5. The Pirates scored four times in the last two innings after the Phils had built up a 9-1 lead. It marked the third straight year that the 25-year-old right hander has reached the 20-win mark.

The Athletics didn't need the services of Shantz as they swept a doubleheader from the lowly Detroit Tigers, 4-3 and 6-5, to climb into a fifth-place tie with Chicago and advance within nine games of the pace - setting New York Yankees.

Although beaten by the White Sox, 3-1, the Yankees managed to retain their two-game advantage over the runner-up Cleveland Indians, who dropped a heart-breaking 6-5 decision to the Red Sox in Boston.

Washington clung to fourth place edging out the St. Louis Browns 2-1.

The National League race tightened up appreciably as the Cincinnati Reds held the front-running Brooklyn Dodgers to a split in their doubleheader while the New York Giants, St. Louis Cardinals and Phillies all won.

The Reds won their first game of the year from Brooklyn in Cincinnati as they snapped a 3-3 tie in the eighth inning to take a 5-3 nightcap victory. The Brooks won the opener, 3-0.

The Durocherless New York Giants sliced Brooklyn's lead to 6 1/2 games, sweeping a pair from the Cubs in Chicago, 5-0 and 3-1. Sal (The Barber) Maglie was his old razor sharp again, twirling an eight-hit shutout in the opener as he went the distance for the first time since June 26.

The third-place Cardinals moved to within 8 1/2 games of the top, defeating the Boston Braves, 7-5, on the strength of two-run homers by rookie Vern Benson and Red Schoendienst.

INDIANS when he was in his hey-day.

The 25-year-old Roberts came to the Phils in mid-season of 1948 after chalking up a 9-1 record with Wilmington of the Interstate League. With the Phils he wound up winning seven while losing nine. In 1949 he won 15, losing the same number.

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Hungarian officials disclosed today that an Olympics - fostered romance had bridged the Iron Curtain.

The groom was identified as the editor of Les Sports, published in Brussels.

3 Year Start On Missouri Hiway Plan

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. — The State Highway Commission has approved a $97,000,000 start for the first three years of Missouri's ten-year $557,000,000 road improvement program.

Announcing the tentative schedule for the first three years today, cover work on approximately 1,867 miles of roads. Here are the goals for each of the next three years: 1953—work on 728.5 miles estimated to cost $33,928,250; 1954—work on 661.3 miles estimated at $31,968,960; 1955—work on 577.2 miles estimated at $31,182,000.

The commission emphasized that this preliminary plan is intended to serve only as a guide. All the work will depend on whether funds from new gasoline taxes and truck fees—passed by the legislature earlier this year, produce the expected revenue.

Actual construction in the three-year plan covers about 1,592 miles, since there will be some duplication as the work is carried out in stages. Activity will start with right-of-way buying on some projects.

An additional 310 miles of major system improvements, expected to cost another $22,000,000, are not covered in the three-year plan. This work includes projects which had been programmed for this year, but which have not yet been contracted.

About half of the 1952 projects are expected to carry over into next year.

The three-year plan covers only major system or trunk line highways. It does not include farm-to-market or urban projects planned as part of the ten-year improvement program.

The commission already has taken over about 1,500 miles of local roads for maintenance.

7 Arab Nations Starting Own Defense System

CAIRO, Egypt (U. P.) — The seven Arab nations say they will put their own Middle East defense system into operation next month at a meeting of military commanders of the Arab League countries.

The meeting, to be held around mid-September, was announced last night by League Secretary-General Abdel Rahman Azzam. A collective security pact signed in September, 1950, by the seven nations—Egypt, Syria, Lebanon, Jordan, Iraq, Saudi Arabia and Yemen—goes into effect next Saturday.

One clause of the treaty says, "Any armed aggression against one or more of the pact's members or its forces is an attack on all to be met with armed forces."

The Arab pact is distinct from the Middle East defense command proposed last October by the U. S., Britain, France and Turkey. Egypt turned the idea down then but the Western Powers still hope to work out such an arrangement.

The new Egyptian reform government has not rejected the plan specifically and has invited offers of arms from foreign powers. Previously Arab sources suggested unofficially that the Arab League defense alliance might take care of Middle East defense for the West.

Azzam also emphasized in a statement yesterday that the Arab nations would not make peace with neighboring Israel until all Arab refugees of the 1948 Palestine War are returned to their lands and all U. N. decisions on the Holy Land enforced.

Bible Words to Live by

The finest definition of religion ever given is in the forty-sixth Psalm, verse ten, "Be still, and know that I am God." This is my favorite verse because it speaks to both me and my time.

We identify life with motion. We don't believe we are living unless we are moving. We are worshippers of the great god Whirl. We shoot past life without touching it, and gulp it down without savoring it. We live in a mosquito swarm of things to do. This verse, spoken as a revelation from the mouth of Almighty God, calls me to quiet, to unity of soul and reflection of mind. "Be still . . ."

And out of the stillness I enter into the promise ". . . and know that I am God." Today we are so self-conscious and other-conscious. How many of us are God-conscious? He's so distant and unreal; the "balance of the probabilities", "the grand Perchance", "the great Maybe". As I am contemplatively still I know God and there comes to me new courage, faith and competence.

In this day of uncertainty, dread and division we need the knowledge of God: — God maturing in the mind, growing in the soul, expanding in the experience. Here is the way: "Be still, and know . . ."

Man Plunges 13 Floors
Through Roof, Ceiling
And Is Still Alive

MIAMI, Fla. (U. P.) — A man who plunged from the 13th floor of a downtown building and crashed through the roof and ceiling of an adjoining two-story structure was still alive today.

Police identified him as 41-year-old Charles R. Svoboda of Miami. Svoboda apparently hit the roof head first when he fell late yesterday afternoon. A hole about two feet square was found in the roof.

He suffered deep cuts on the head, broken arms, a broken right leg, and possible internal and brain injuries. His condition was critical.

He regained consciousness at Jackson Memorial Hospital long enough to tell a nurse he felt "lousy."

Police said they had found no reason for Svoboda's leap.

Tax Experts Surprised Over Truman Forecast of Fund Cut

WASHINGTON (U. P.) — Congressional money experts expressed surprise today at President Truman's estimate that direct taxes on corporations this fiscal year will yield three billion dollars less than he had figured in his budget seven months ago.

However, among the few lawmakers available for comment on the revised budget estimates released last night, none challenged the possibility that the drop-back point has been reached.

Rep. Daniel A. Reed of New York, ranking Republican on the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, said it had been evident to him for some time that retail business has been lagging. He observed that such a condition could hardly exist without a back-lash on manufacturers.

Rep. Herman P. Eberharter of Pennsylvania, a ways and means Democrat, called the decrease in the probable take from corporations "unexpected." He said his personal opinion had been that business tax receipts would have been somewhat higher than the January estimate of $27,800,000,000.

The Budget Bureau's estimate of government income has run rather consistently lower than actual receipts in most recent years. In his new look at the budget, Truman figured that not only receipts but spending and the year-end deficit are coming down. For the fiscal year which ends next June 30, he lowered his estimate of receipts from 71 billion dollars to $68,700,000,000; of expenditures, from $85,400,000,000 to 79 billion dollars; and of the deficit, from $14,400,000,000 to $10,300,000,000.

One exception to the downtrend was individual income taxes, which will bring in about 33½ billion dollars, or half a billion more than the January estimate.

Truman said his current estimate that corporation taxes will bring in $24,800,000,000 instead of $27,800,000,000 was based on two factors: a lower estimate of corporate profits for calendar years 1951 and 1952, and added experience with the provisions of the excess profits tax of 1950 and last fall's tax increase bill.

All but 100 million dollars of the estimated $6,400,000,000 decrease in expenditures was out of military funds, including foreign military assistance. Truman explained that there have been not only certain reductions in appropriations but "some slowing of military production resulting from the work stoppage in the steel industry."

Other segments of the budget were up or down a few hundred million dollars from the first - of - year estimates.

Rep. Reed said he drew two main conclusions from a preliminary examination of the President's figures:

1. That—barring a third world war—there must be "proper retrenchment to give the taxpayers necessary tax reductions."
2. That when tax rates are set too high, they bring in less revenue than they would if the levies were more moderate.

Napoleon III Letter Found
BOLOGNA, Italy (U) — The document for which France has been looking for the past 80 years has been discovered in the archives of a count here.

The document is the signed letter with which Napoleon III, last emperor of France, surrendered at Sedan to Wilhelm I of Germany. The document disappeared from the German court between 1872 and 1875.

The letter says: "Mister my brother, as I was unable to die in the midst of my troops, I have only to hand my sword in the hands of Your Majesty. I am, of Your Majesty, the good brother — Napoleon."

The document belongs to the two sons of the late attorney Francesco Galli, Gallo Quinto and Gallo Quarto.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., (P)—Ralph W. Langston who was ousted as police chief last Friday will have a hearing in Circuit Court today on accusations that he improperly tried to influence three county grand jury members.

The charges were made in affidavits filed by the Greene County prosecutor's office.

The grand jury recommended Langston's ouster in favor of "a trained and experienced man," about one month ago. Mayor Napoleon Karchner last Friday appointed Frank Pike as chief.

Also scheduled for hearing Monday is a motion filed by Langston's attorney that the grand jury's recommendation be stricken from the record.

SAO PAULO, Brazil, (AP)—Hospital authorities here report that a 38-year-old woman gave birth to quintuplets last night. Doctors said they stand a good chance of surviving.

The babies, weighing less than three pounds each, were born in the space of three hours in the interior village of Sao Carlos, authorities said. The parents are Jose Albano, 38, a negro laborer and his wife, Maria.

The mother and her five babies were brought to Sao Paulo hospital. The infants were placed in an incubator.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Rev. J. Frank Norris, widely known Baptist pastor, died early today near Jacksonville, Fla., apparently of a heart attack.

A son, Rev. George Norris, said his father died at 12:45 a. m. at a youth camp near Jacksonville, apparently of a heart attack.

The Fort Worth clergyman had flown to Florida Tuesday to attend a state-wide fellowship meeting. He had been in failing health for the last two years. He was 74 years old.

SAN FRANCISCO, (U)—Lawrence Mario Giannini, 58, president of the Bank of America—the world's largest bank, died in his sleep last night at a hospital here.

His physician said death was caused by a number of illnesses. He had been in the hospital since March 4.

His wife, Mrs. Anna Mercedes Giannini and two daughters, Anne and Virginia, were at his bedside.

IN 1936 Giannini became president of the Bank of America, founded by his father, the late A. P. Giannini in 1884. The elder Giannini, an Italian immigrant, died in June, 1949.

are looting the naval graveyards of ships sunk off the Philippines in World War II. Senator Callos P. Garcia wants the army to investigate. He says the government is losing money it hoped to realize from the sale of the loot.

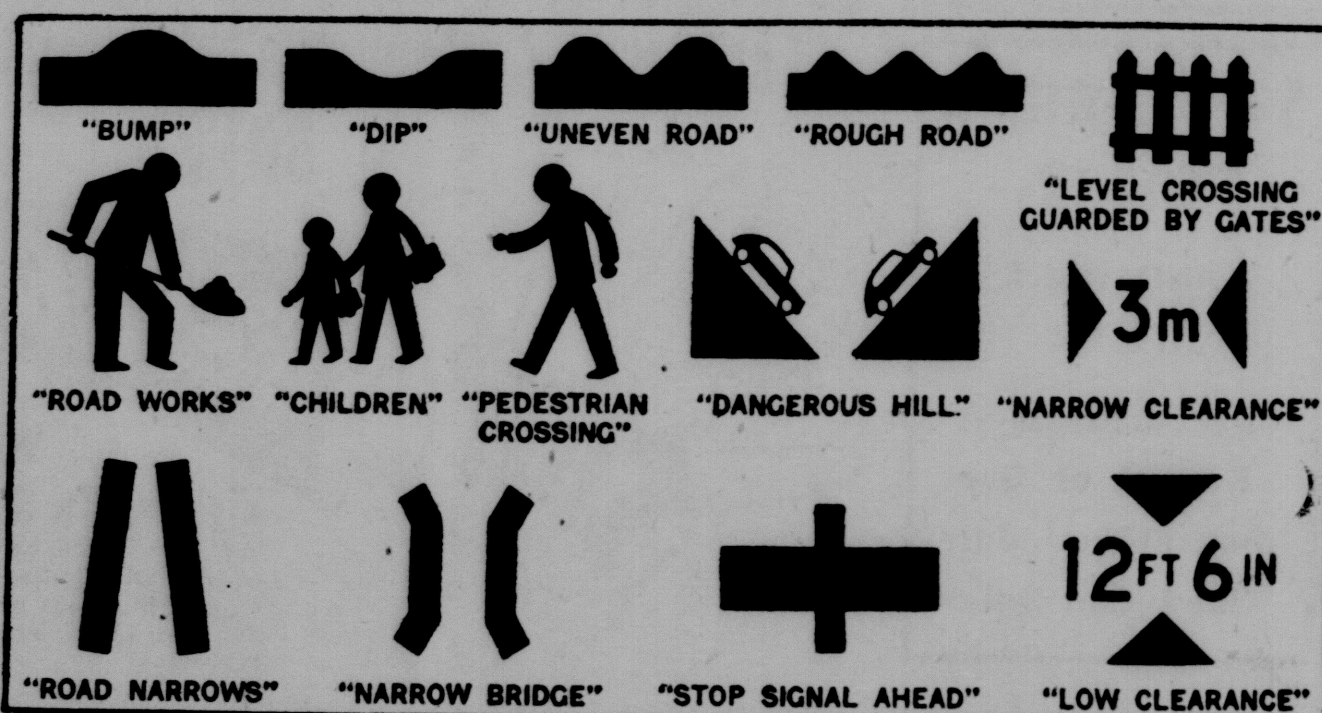

The pirates also reportedly particularly active off the coasts of the central islands of Samar and Leyte, where some of the bitterest naval engagements of the war were fought.

An estimated 500 Japanese ships lie at various depths in Philippine waters, and some believe that from 500,000 to 700,000 tons of scrap can be salvaged from the sunken ships.

There are about 150 species of true lice which live on mammals by sucking their blood.

RUNNERS-UP—What hosiery manufacturers hope will become a fad is displayed on the legs of Hollywood actress Julie Adams. Her stockings, in proper non-artisan fashion, feature the names of Ike and Stevenson. But feminine voters will probably want to watch 'em instead of mixing 'em.

INTERNATIONAL ROAD SIGNS—If and when they are universally adopted, you may be guided by these road signs when driving on the highway. The scientifically designed symbols are the results of some 20 months' work by a group of six experts appointed by the UN secretary-general to draft an international convention establishing a uniform system of road signs. The idea is to ease the way of travelers using highways in foreign countries. They can recognize the symbols even if they don't understand the language.

Standby crews today mopped up the flickering embers of five California brush and forest fires which burned over almost 10,000 acres, killed one man, injured four, and destroyed several farm buildings and a Hindu religious retreat.

The biggest fire — almost 8,000 acres — blazed in pastures and brush east of San Jose. Four of some 325 firefighters were burned

Through error the Studebaker Truck advertisement in the Tuesday issue of the Democrat appeared over the signature of the Vincent Motor Sale Company, whereas it should have run over the signature of the Boots-Olson Motor Company, which firm is the local franchise dealer for Studebaker cars and trucks. This advertisement appears correctly in today's issue of the Democrat.

MUNSAN, Korea (P)—U. N. Command liaison officers told the Communists today at Panmunjom that U. N. warplanes unintentionally flew over Panmunjom Aug. 16, violating the neutrality of the Korean truce talks site.

The U. N. officers rejected for lack of evidence a Red protest that Allied planes flew over the area Aug. 13.

The truce talks are in their fourth straight weeklong recess. The delegations are to meet again Aug. 27.
